

Victorian Day 8th and 9th June, 2010

Visit us for our successful Victorian Day and experience some of the sights, sounds and smells of industrial Victorian England.

Ride on a train pulled by a Victorian steam engine – Metropolitan No. 1 (1898) or the Beattie Well Tank (1870).

Play with Victorian toys. Write on a slate and in ink with a quill.

Handle some of the life-blood of the Industrial Revolution - coal.

Follow the progression of wheels from wood to steel to pneumatic tyres.

Dress up in Victorian styles and eat your Victorian picnic lunch. Imagine yourself eating in style in Queen Victoria's Royal Diner.

Find out what it would have been like living in the Victorian era.

Have a ride on a miniature train.
